THE WORLD OF TOMORROW (?)

W. R. WILLIAMS, PIONEER ANTIOCH MERCHANT, DIES

Owner of Williams' Dept.
Store Passes After Brief Illness

Friends and business acquaintances of Wilbur Reese Williams, owner of Williams' Department store, the oldest business institution in Antioch, joined today in paying tribute to his memory.

Mr. Williams, who was 71, died in Victory Memorial hospital Monday evening. He had apparently been in good health and had attended to his business affairs as usual until he was taken ill Thursday evening. Word of his passing came as a distinct shock to his friends, many of whom were even unaware of his illness.

He was removed from his home at 712 North Main street to the hospital on Sunday, and his death occurred at 8:15 o'clock on the following evening.

Stores Closed

In respect to his memory, all stores in Antioch were closed from 2 to 3 o'clock this afternoon, while funeral services were being held.

The Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, officiated at the services, held in Strang's funeral home. Members of Sequoit lodge of the Masons conducted Masonic rites. Mr. Williams had been a member of the Masonic lodge for 41 years. Burial was at Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Williams was born Oct. 19, 1867, in St. Louis, Mo., and was the adopted son of E. B. Williams and the son of Mrs. Mahilda (Reese) Williams, Antioch pioneers, both of whom died in 1931.

He was united in marriage with Miss Emma Barnstable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnstable of Antioch township, who came to Illinois from England and were among the early settlers of this locality, on Sept. 19, 1889. Mr. and Mrs. Williams would have observed their golden wedding anniversary this fall.

Active 54 Years

Mr. Williams had been connected with Williams' Department store, formerly known as Williams Bros., for 54 years, since the age of 17. He and his son, Harold, took over its entire management in 1921, but the old name was retained until about two years ago, when the name of Williams' Department store was adopted.

The present store building was constructed by D. A. Williams and E. B. Williams in March, 1891, and was hailed at that time as "the largest and best-arranged store in Lake, McHenry, Kenosha and Racine counties." It succeeded a much earlier building located on the present site of King's Drug store. The original store was founded the year of the great Chicago fire, in 1871.

Wife Survives

Besides being a member of the Masonic lodge, in which he held various offices, Mr. Williams was a member of the Antioch Lions club, and was prominent in civic affairs of the community for more than half a century. In addition to giving of his time and ability toward all projects of community betterment, he performed many private acts of kindness throughout his life which were generally unknown, even to his most intimate friends.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Barnstable Williams, and two grandsons, Roger and Dean, sons of Harold Williams and Mrs. Lillian Williams Hand.

A half-sister, Mrs. C. K. Anderson of Antioch, also survives. His son, Harold, preceded him in death, in 1922.

Former "Sunset Camp" Becomes "Country House"

The "Country House" is the intriguing title being given to the former Sunset Camp at Channel Lake, which has been purchased by J. J. Stern and is being remodeled and re-furnished into a beautiful summer resort.

Mr. Stern, who was a World War ace for Germany, is married to an English woman, and has traveled extensively abroad and in this country. He became interested in the possibilities of the lake resort region around Antioch, and purchased Sunset Camp from a syndicate of Chicago owners.

He has already completed the re-decoration of "The Country House," and states that the refurbishing is being carried rapidly to completion. The resort is already prepared to receive visitors, and will be in complete readiness before Memorial Day.

33 AGE INSURANCE CLAIMS ARE PAID IN COUNTY IN MARCH

Albert S. Lewis, manager of the Social Security Board's field office in Waukegan, released figures this week indicating that 33 old-age insurance claims were certified during the month of March for this area. Lump sum benefits for the month came to $2006.85 or an average of $60.81 each. A total of 416 claims for $22,418.54 have been certified to claimants in Lake and McHenry counties through the local field office.

The following list of suggestions to wage earners was released today by the Waukegan field office:

1—All commercial and industrial workers must have a social security account card. If you do not possess one, file an application at once.

2—If you have lost your social security card, a duplicate will be issued without charge.

3—Only one social security account number is necessary. If you have more than one, call immediately or write to the Waukegan field office.

4—Inquire at the field office if you are the widow or nearest relative of a deceased person who has worked in commerce or industry at any time since Jan. 1, 1937. You may be entitled to a lump sum benefit.

5—This also applies if you have attained age 65 and have worked in commerce or industry at any time since Jan. 1, 1937. You may be entitled to a lump sum benefit. To obtain this you need not retire from work.

6—If you desire to know the amount of wages credited to your account in 1937, call at the field office. If you believe the amount credited is incorrect, give the facts to the field office.

7—A woman employee who changes her name through marriage should advise the Social Security Board, even if she does not continue working.

8—Make certain your employer has your correct name and account number on his records.

The Social Security Board office serving Lake and McHenry counties is located in the Waukegan Postoffice Building, Telephone Ont. 6595.

Barriers to National Progress

America grew to its present position as the nation with the highest standard of living the world has ever known because it consisted of 48 separate states which yet at the same time succeeded in working together for the good of the whole country. Like the Three Musketeers, the United States was always "all for one, one for all."

Today a perilous shadow seems to be cast upon this successful formula. It is the shadow of state trade barriers—"tariffs" discriminating against the products of outside states so that home products may reap a temporary benefit.

These discriminatory taxes take many forms, but all are deadly in effect. Their inevitable result is to produce retaliatory measures in the other states; and, if this trend continues, we may some day see 48 states with high trade barriers raised against one another, hindering the free flow of commerce that has been a main reason for our national progress.

There's something distinctly un-American about that picture!

A Much Needed Weapon

A bill to provide for deportation of aliens who advocate an overthrow of the United States form of government, has been under consideration in Congress.

This should provide a much needed weapon at a time when there are a great many agitators beating the drum of Communism, Fascism or some other "ism" and advocating that Americanism be discarded.

It is to be hoped that the bill will finally be approved by the Senate and signed by the President, even though the C. I. O. is opposing it.

While such a new law would greatly strengthen the powers of officials charged with deportation of undesirable aliens, there are similar laws now on the statute books. It might be well for enforcement agencies to start a rigid application of these existing laws at once.

Wholesale Propaganda

Not the least of the worries of the next Republican president—whether it be Dewey, Taft, Bricker, Bridges, or who—will be that of cleaning up the propaganda agencies that have been created in Washington under the New Deal.

No investigating agency has been able to get near to estimating the amount of tax money that is being funneled back to the taxpayer in the form of propaganda to sell him on the New Deal philosophy. Almost every government agency now has its own radio programs on free time blackjacked out of the broadcasting companies on threat of losing their licenses for non-cooperation. Estimates of press agents scattered through the various departments run from 400 to 600, but they are often hidden under less revealing titles. Their salaries run up to $7,500 a year. Hundreds of releases are dumped daily on the desks of Washington correspondents, and hundreds of thousands pour out monthly to newspapers over the country. Millions have been spent producing motion pictures describing the glories of the New Deal and life for the taxpayers under the New Deal.

The only thing lacking is a Minister of Propaganda and Public Education. And one seldom heard of bureau—the National Emergency Council operating under an ex-newspaper editor, is assuming that function under the mask of coordination.

It is a costly, un-American mess waiting to be cleaned up after the next Presidential elections.

BEVERAGE ALCOHOL AND THE HOME

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 35:5-10; Ephesians 5:15-21; 6:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou; nor thy sons with thee.—Leviticus 10:10.

A home is more than a house, and yet people live as though it were not true. They build attractive houses, fill them with comfortable furnishings, and think they have a home, no matter how they may live. God is forgotten, pleasure becomes the chief object in life, and money is desired because it buys pleasure. Intoxicants are freely used both outside and inside the home, apparently with no thought of their destructive influence.

Alcohol burned in a stove produces heat, in an engine it produces power, in a man it produces disgrace and disease, and in the home it produces sorrow, suffering, and ultimately destruction. Why should the decent and intelligent people of America supinely submit to the degradation of this juggernaut, the liquor traffic? What are you doing about it?

The lesson for today presents three factors which make for happiness in the home.

I. Loyalty to Family Standards (Jer. 35:5-10).

When the traditional standards of a family are good and right in the sight of God, they afford a worthy rallying point for the younger generation. The Rechabites were obedient to the instructions of their forefathers. The prophet had subjected them to a test (not a temptation, for he did not expect them to fail) in the presence of the Jews and in the great city of Jerusalem. They were surrounded by the unaccustomed luxury and temptations of the city, and now the prophet tries them further by saying, "Drink ye wine." But they were not afraid to be thought old-fashioned or queer, for they knew that the customs of their fathers were good (see Jer. 6:10), and they stood by them.

To depend on that which is good and noble in the past of our people or family, is a sign neither of weakness nor ignorance, but rather of wisdom and strength. What kind of family standards will your boy and mine look back to? What of the little baby who lay in his buggy while the young mother helped her husband pick out the bottle of whisky in the store window which he then went in and bought? When I see such things my heart burns within me against this wicked business which destroys all of the finest in men and in their homes.

II. Accuracy in Daily Living (Eph. 5:15-21).

"The Greek word rendered 'circumspectly' (v. 15) may be more closely and simply rendered 'accurately.' The thought given is that of painstaking attention to details, under a sense of their importance; a remembrance not only in general but in particular of the duties of the Christian's walk." (Middle)

Every phrase in this section of our lesson is overflowing with meaning but we cannot here refer to them all. Note the temperance application. The man who walks accurately will be "wise" (v. 15) and will "be filled with the Spirit" (v. 18). The inaccurate walker is a "fool" (v. 15), and one of his follies may be in being "drunk with wine" (v. 18). But there is far more in this passage. Spirit-filled people know the will of God and therefore redeem the time. They cultivate that delightful spiritual exercise of home religion known as hymn singing. Have you tried that lately? Gather the family or friends around the organ or piano. Turn off the ever-present radio for a few minutes. Open the old hymn book and sing. Don't overlook thankfulness in verse 20, and then try that golden recipe.

III. Unity in the Home (Eph. 6:1-4).

A united family is obviously impossible where one member or more gives his time and money and very life to booze. You know and I know that it just does not work. Think of the havoc thus wrought not only in the lives of the parents, but particularly in the lives and characters of the children.

Let Christ reign in the home and there will be unity. Children will realize that it is right to obey their godly parents. They will honor and cherish father and mother, and God will reward them for it (vv. 2, 3; also Exod. 20:12). But what is more, fathers will be wise enough not to provoke their children to wrath. Much of the trouble in our homes is caused by disobedient children, but sometimes I think even more of it is caused by unwise parents. The children need nurture and admonition, but that can be done in kindness and with constructive results if we seek the Lord's help. Father, mother, let me plead with you that you permit no interest in business, social life, or even church work to come between you and your fellowship with your children. That is your biggest job and your greatest opportunity.

GOODYEAR CENTENNIAL JUBILEE VALUES

For 24 years, Goodyear has out-sold any other kind of tires—evidence of the popularity of products made by "The Greatest Name in Rubber". Among the new and improved products developed by Goodyear in commemoration of the Hundredth Anniversary of Charles Goodyear's discovery of the vulcanization of rubber, are those shown below. Every one is a real Centennial value. Come see them—learn why it is true that "More People Ride on Goodyear Tires than on Any Other Kind".

NEW GOODYEAR G-100

Built to give you up to 33% more tread mileage! New flat shape reduces side-slip, roll and sway—new cord angle compresses rubber, giving slower wear. Safe All-Weather center traction—more closely nested diamond blocks in the center where you need them most—11% more rubber on the road. Greater resistance to punctures, bruises and blowouts—two-way tread compression, twin cord breakers, new low-arch Supertwist Cords in every ply. "G-100" gives you utmost mileage, safety, comfort and appearance.

THE NEW GOODYEAR DOUBLE EAGLE AIRWHEEL

The tire of tomorrow—today. The smartest, strongest, easiest-riding tire in motor history. Frankly a better tire than most people need. So many outstanding improvements in its construction that it gives up to 50% more tread mileage. The world's finest tire at any price—a tire whose four plies of specially spun, high heat resisting and rubber adhesive Rayonwax cord give it greater fatigue resistance than an ordinary six ply tire.

THE NEW G-3 ALL-WEATHER AT A NEW LOWER PRICE

The G-3 All-Weather has been improved in materials and design—made into a better wearing, longer running tire than the previous G-3 record-breaker. But the real news about this famous Goodyear is that you pay less for it and get a tire in which the mileage has been definitely stepped up. This tire is grand news for vacation budgets.

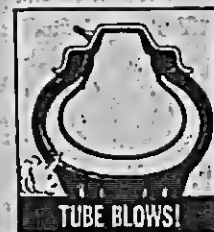

THE NEW PATHFINDER

A big, tough, rugged, long-mileage tire. The best tire Goodyear ever made to sell at these low prices.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 14.

The Golden Text was, "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life" (11 Cor. 5:4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness" (Psalms 17:15).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal birth, growth, maturity, and decay are as the grass springing from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native nothingness. It never merges into immortality, but finally disappears, and immortal man, spiritual and eternal, is found to be the real man" (p. 190).

POPPY DAY TO BE OBSERVED MAY 21Antioch Legion Auxiliary
Will Join in Sale of Flowers

Profitable employment for hundreds of disabled war veterans has been provided by the memorial poppies which will be worn on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 27, in tribute to the World War dead, explains Mrs. A. P. Bratrud, Poppy chairman of the Antioch unit of the American Legion auxiliary, as the auxiliary women prepare for the annual observance of Poppy Day here.

Poppies have been made this year at seventy-eight government hospitals and auxiliary workrooms in fifty-one states, where disabled veterans unable to do other work have been given employment during the winter and spring months. The work has been restricted largely to veterans receiving little or no government compensation and to those with dependent families. The bulk of the money earned has gone to the support of families left in need when the veteran father became disabled.

The poppies which will be distributed here have been made at the U. S. Veterans' Hospital in North Chicago, where many disabled veterans have been engaged in shaping the little red memorial flowers under the direction of the rehabilitation department of the auxiliary. Materials have been supplied by the auxiliary and the workers paid funds. Poppy earnings have been a great boon to many veteran's families during past months.

The disabled veterans are the only paid workers in the auxiliary's poppy program. The women who distribute the flowers serve as unpaid volunteers and all contributions they receive go to the rehabilitation and welfare work of the American Legion and auxiliary.

Wilmot High Annual Makes Its Appearance

Wilmot high school's annual, "The Echo," was distributed to the student body yesterday. Olene and Olive Vander Zee were co-editors, assisted by Ralph Freeman.

The 1939 class colors are blue and white, and the binding of the 64-page volume is carried out in these colors with the title, "The Echo," superimposed upon a large "1939," both in white ink. Similar motifs, in black, mark division pages throughout the book.

A full-page picture of the entrance to the high school forms the frontispiece. A portrait of Miss Ruth Thomas, faculty member to whom the volume is dedicated, follows.

Pictures of M. M. Schaurr, principal; the school board members, George Dean, treasurer; Otto Schenning, president; and R. C. Shott, clerk come next, followed by the faculty, graduates, underclassmen, extra-curricular activities and campus scenes; alumni, former teachers and principals and advertising patrons.

Eldon Schenning, Chas. Goff, boys' athletics; Eloise Allen, girls' athletics; Joan Thompson, Stanley Runyard, humor; Gerald Mallman, Fred Sarbeck, Kenneth Schenning, snapshots; Margaret Schenning, Lillian Johnson, Isabel Barhyte, Helen McManus, Jeanette Roberts, typists.

Miss Thomas, Miss Mildred Berger and Mr. Schurr acted as faculty advisors.

The book was printed by the Antioch News.

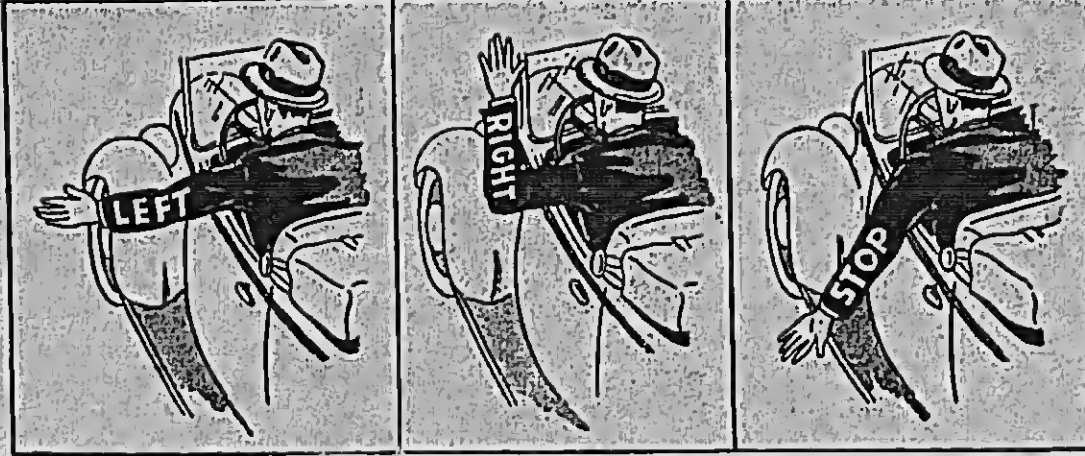

HOLC Property Sales Called Encouraging Sign

The disposal of nearly 50 percent of the Home Owners Loan corporation properties in Lake county within less than a year is considered an encouraging sign of renewed interest in local home ownership, according to Antioch realtors. Some 30 properties have been sold since last May, and there are about 30 homes still on the list.

SIGNAL WHEN YOU TURN!—STATE ENGINEERS WARN

The Illinois law requires the above hand signals to indicate a left turn, right turn, and stop. These signals are also required in bad weather. Only well lighted automatic signal devices can be used in place of them.

Use of Car Couplings

Railroads first started changing from the pin and link coupling when Ezra Miller patented his automatic coupler in 1863. By 1870 it was in general use in the middle and western states and a few years later in use on most of the railroads in the United States. The Pennsylvania railroad in 1878 made the Janney coupler, which was patented by E. H. Janney in 1877, standard equipment for its passenger cars. In 1887 a recommendation of the Master Car Builders' association for the adoption of vertical plane couplers discontinued the use of the pin and link couplers on all roads. The Janney coupler was made standard by this association in 1888.

The Colossal Caves

The Colossal caves are about 27 miles southeast of Tucson, Ariz. Rivaling in beauty and size the Carlsbad caves of New Mexico, this natural wonder has for many years remained almost unknown to travelers. But in recent years the caves and surrounding area have been improved under the supervision of the national park service. The ceiling is ornamented with intricate silver webbing. There are stalactites of translucent calcite. Many of these are so hard that if struck with the hand they ring like chimes. In some places the stalactites and stalagmites have joined and the result is columns of unusual shapes.

The Word 'Chemurgy'

The word "chemurgy" is derived from the Greek words "chemi," meaning chemistry and "ergon," meaning work. The two words are combined into the word "chemurgy," which means "putting chemistry to work for the farmer."

Tree Bears Pears of Wood

In the Lane Cove national park at Sydney, N. S. W., are trees that bear the most luscious looking pears, only with the stem on the wrong end. But they can't be eaten. They are of solid wood. It is forbidden to pick them.

Virginia, the 'Old Dominion'
The nickname "Old Dominion" originated in Colonial days. About the year 1863, after Charles Stuart had become king of England, he quartered the arms of Virginia on his royal shield, thus ranking Virginia along with his other four dominions, England, Scotland, France and Ireland. The Burgesses of Virginia were proud of this distinction and adopted the name.

Clock Hands at 8:20

Possibly the best answer to the question: Why clocks when purchased have the hands placed at 8:20 is that the hands so placed is the most symmetrical arrangement possible, and the most pleasing to the eye. It will be noted that at 8:20, or 8:10, as the hands are sometimes placed, they are the same distance from the 12 and the 6 and two-thirds of the space on the dial is above the hands.

Several Species of Rattlesnakes

There are several species of rattlesnakes, and some are so like their surroundings that it is almost impossible to detect them until the loud rattle is heard. This noise is evidently given to alarm enemies, for when the snake is cornered it is produced with the greatest power.

Hanged With Silken Rope
Lord Laurence Shirley Ferrers was the last nobleman in England to suffer a felon's death. He was tried for murder and pleaded insanity, but was found guilty, and dressed in a suit embroidered in silver he was taken in his own carriage from the Tower of London to Tyburn to be hanged. It is said that as a special concession to his request the rope used was of silk.

A Pair of Twins

According to Webster's dictionary, the colloquial phrase "a pair of twins" is commonly used to designate two offspring born at one birth; the one word "twins" has the same meaning. To be perfectly logical, one might assume that "pair" meant two sets, therefore a pair of twins would be four persons, but common usage decrees otherwise.

Name Matilda of Teutonic Origin

The name Matilda, of Teutonic origin, means "mighty battlemaid." Queen Matilda ruled England briefly in the Twelfth century. Matilda, countess of Tuscany, willed her territory to the pope and it became the nucleus of the States of the Church. Matilda of Portugal was the wife of Count Philip of Flanders.

Lake George's Outlet
Lake George's outlet is Lake Champlain in the St. Lawrence river basin. It narrows at its outlet and the waters enter Lake Champlain by a short creek, which has a descent of about 230 feet in a mile, with a series of cascades and an abrupt fall of 30 feet at Ticonderoga.

Dachshund Used as Hunter
The dachshund was used extensively in Germany in hunting the dachs, which is a small burrowing animal resembling the American badger. The dogs are trained to go into the dach's hole and bring him out.

American Tourists Turn Down Europe

More Families to Tour Own Country This Year.

MINNEAPOLIS.—More American families will tour the Americas in 1939 than ever before, while they turn their backs on Europe. Barring unexpected economic reversals, 1939 will be the biggest travel year in the country's history, and should top the record five and one-half billion dollar tourist business of 1937, according to a study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

American travel to Europe shrank 20 per cent in 1938 from the 1937 volume. Although travel agents reported a pick-up in European bookings immediately after Hitler's January speech, with its unexpectedly moderate tone, present indications are for a further shrinkage in American visits to Europe in 1939, the survey finds.

Major stimulants to domestic travel during 1939 are the New York and San Francisco World's fairs; it is estimated that 26 million visitors will see one fair or the other. Railroads and travel agencies already report large blocks of bookings for both fairs; automobile clubs are already filling members' advance requests for routings to New York and San Francisco.

However, South American travel has been climbing steadily; domestic cruise bookings jumped in the last few weeks of 1938 and have continued to gain since; it is difficult to reserve space on Hawaiian steamships for early summer sailings, as practically their entire passenger space has already been sold.

The American motorist, who despite the depression did almost as much touring in 1938 as in the record year of 1937, is due for his greatest mass pilgrimage in 1939. Automobile clubs report that many members cut short or postponed 1938 pleasure trips, in anticipation of making world's fair treks in 1939. Automobile clubs and gasoline company routing bureaus report that they have a considerable volume of inquiries already for summer vacation routings. Winter motor travel for the season just past exceeded that of the winter of 1937-38.

Air travel, which has expanded in volume in spite of business cycles, continues its steady increase.

Bridge and Poker Lead in Card Games, Survey Shows

CHICAGO.—A devoted following in rural areas of the Midwest and West was instrumental in ranking auction bridge as the country's third most popular card game, it was shown by a survey of clubs and social organizations recently completed.

In the nation-wide tabulation, auction gave way only to contract bridge, which is currently Number One card game, and to perennially favored poker.

Two old favorites, pinochle and rummy, battled it out for fourth honors with rummy coming out on top in the ratings. Games such as hearts, 500, whist and solitaire all have their staunch supporters, it was shown, but trailed the leaders by a considerable margin.

There are 42 different card games keeping America entertained at present, according to the poll. Some are favored in certain sections—such as schafkopf (sheephead) in Wisconsin. Others are practically unheard of outside limited areas. Examples of these are guernsey bull and hoof and mouth, which obviously came from the cattle country, and card games called fiery cross, bonanza, dotta and squeeze which can be traced to no particular localities.

A 3-Story Flat Houses

Beavers, Muskrats, Mink

BUTTE, MONT.—Beavers, sometimes employed by the CCC in dam building and in water conservation, have a new fort now, according to Charles A. Joy, supervisor of Deer Lodge National Forest.

These industrious animals apparently have gone in for apartment life and, in so doing, have demonstrated how to get along with the neighbors.

Joy related a tale of a three-story beaver apartment house that he had found, occupied in the basement by the beaver builders, the second floor housed a family of muskrats, and the pent house was let to a young mink couple, and several little minks.

Apparently the strange family is on the best of terms.

Three Scientists Study

Mysterious Cow Disease

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Three scientists in the University of Minnesota's dairy department are hunting for a minute organism—a germ believed the cause of a disease that annually kills thousands of dairy cows throughout the country.

The scientists specifically are studying a live stock ailment called mastitis, or as known to farmers, "garget." The disease attacks the udders of cows and infected animals must be killed.

The research workers, headed by Dr. W. E. Peterson, believe that mastitis develops from a small organism—but what organism still is a mystery to them.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

WHAT IS ADVERTISING GENIUS?

IN THE early days of advertising there were men who posed in the role of genius. They shrouded advertising with mystery. To portray their part they let their hair grow, wore flowing bow ties, affected a far-away look and muttered mysterious formulae.

Some persons still believe that the ability to advertise a business successfully is like the ability to write poetry—an inborn gift.

It isn't at all. The closer advertising comes to answering some of the needs in the lives of common, ordinary people the more nearly it comes to success.

The only genius needed in advertising is the everyday genius of telling the truth in a simple and an understandable way.

A few months ago some of the leaders in the advertising profession were boasting about the results of their work. One of the advertising publications published what they said about themselves.

Writers of some of the largest corporations in the country took part in the discussion. But a little druggist in Florida, spending just a few dollars in his local newspaper, was able to top all the results of these high-salaried advertising men.

All he did was to know the desires of his customers, and sit down and tell them what he had in a simple, an understandable, a convincing, conversational way. Here is his advertisement:

In medieval times, a tenant's firewood was limited to the amount of underbrush he could cut with a hook and the deadwood he could knock from the trees with a shepherd's crook. Hence the expression, "by hook or crook."

From the Lake Forest correspondent's items—Golf is giving every indication of being more popular than ever this season, and the activity already shown at the Ontonagon club, Lake Forest, indicates a most popular season.

Expulsion from the Ferry Hall seminary at Lake Forest is feared by fourteen young women, who have broken one of the strictest rules of the school in accompanying fourteen young men to a party without the permission of the faculty or the presence of a chaperone.

The young men are also in the scrape, and fear summary action by the college authorities.

It is said that the young women, aided by their gallant escorts, left their rooms on the first floor of the seminary via windows, when only the crickets and bullfrogs were astir. A report of the occurrence reached the ears of the chaperon, Miss Sargeant, after the ball, and now the young women and men are anxiously awaiting the decision of the faculty.

Colonists Used Indian Medicine

Settlers, Lacking Medical Assistance Turned to Friendly Natives.

WASHINGTON.—Largely without physicians and themselves ignorant of the natural history of the country, the early white colonists in North America turned to their neighbors, the friendly Indians, for medicines. Some of these were very effective, even if highly irrational in the light of medical knowledge of today. Thus Indian medicines came to have a high reputation which has persisted in some parts of the country to this day, and the barker peddling them is a well-known character of county fairs.

Indiana themselves still use their own medicines in many places, and herb lore has persisted among them. Dr. William N. Fenton, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, is conducting a study of the medicinal plants in use among the Senecas of central New York. They are one surviving branch of the great Iroquois family, whose contacts with the whites had far-reaching results on the lives of the early settlers.

Collection Began in 1933.

Doctor Fenton is seeking to assemble, as far as possible, a complete botanical collection, accurately classified, of the plants used by the Iroquois, and to record the purposes they were believed to serve. The work was started in 1933 under grants from the Institute of Human Relations of Yale university and was continued last year under grants from St. Lawrence university, the Allegheny school of natural history, and the Ethnobotanical laboratory of the University of Michigan.

Doctor Fenton and his collaborators have gathered 180 species of plants commonly used by the Senecas for medicinal purposes. They constitute approximately a third of all the species listed by botanists for the southwestern New York region.

Medicine Was Philosophical.

Iroquois medicine, he says, was essentially philosophical. The value of some plants in various diseases had been determined by actual experience over generations. For example, from hemlock needles a tea could be brewed which would cure scurvy, and Virginia winterberry acted as a cathartic. But the Iroquois medicine man was not much concerned with experimental medicine. From his point of view nothing grew without a purpose. This purpose could be determined by analogy from observations of its peculiarities of growth, its shape, and the color of its flowers, the places where it was found, etc.

Thus a plant which grew very rapidly might have been used to promote growth in a human being, the growth properties supposedly being transmitted by contact. A plant with a brilliant red blossom might have been considered a tonic for consumption with its pallor.

Even when the specific value of an herb was known, it would seldom be used alone.

Medical knowledge was passed on in families. The Iroquois "doctor" in old times—and to some extent even today—had an ambiguous social status. Medical knowledge embraced magic and witchcraft. He could either cure or he could kill. He carefully guarded his knowledge, imparting it only rarely even to his own descendants, and then in his old age, when he could no longer actively practice.

French Woman Planning To Drive Across Africa

PARIS.—The only woman ever officially admitted into the French Matorial Corps, Pierrette Bidoux, is the first person to sign up for an automobile expedition from Algiers to the Cape. The expedition is being prepared by the Touring Club of France to demonstrate the compactness of Franco-British imperial land routes across Africa.

Pierrette Bidoux was officially commissioned by the ministry of colonies to drive a scientific expedition across the Sahara two years ago. She had her first experiences in desert driving when she visited her then fiancé, a lieutenant in a south Sahara outpost. She drove three weeks across the sands in an old limousine.

No False Teeth at 90; Eyesight Also Good

THAMESVILLE, ONT.—William Strelve of Dresden is 90 years old and estimates he will live to be "at least 110."

He has all his own teeth, reads without aid of glasses and is unusually active. A heavy smoker, he says stories about smoking shortening life "are the bunk."

The way to achieve the age he has set for himself, Strelve says, is to "keep active and interested and do a good day's work every day."

She was chosen from among 13 finalists by a committee of restaurant experts to represent Chicago in a nation-wide waitress personality and beauty contest for the title "Queen of National Restaurant Week," May 8 to 14. She is shown here with a bouquet which she later presented to Roy W. Cooley of Evanston, president of the National Restaurant Association, who led a party of restaurateurs to Los Angeles for a regional conference.

Porter an Occupational Name
Porter is an occupational name of Latin origin meaning "keeper of the gate." There are two Latin sources for this name, the noun porta (a gate, portal or any entrance) and the verb porto (carry) from which we get the word porter, one who carries luggage, etc. However, says Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, "keeper of the gate" is the accredited meaning.

Diet of Chameleons
Chameleons eat insects, but a substitute for this would be chopped meat, meal worms, raw egg, with plenty of water available. Some of them refuse all food and it is claimed that they are very difficult to keep in captivity for more than a few months.

THAT TIRED FEELING

By EMIL C. AURIN, M.D.

MANY persons suffer from a state of chronic fatigue. This is particularly true of office workers. In fact, it is so common that the tired business man has been made the butt of as many jokes as the mother-in-law. But this tired feeling is anything but a joke. Most sufferers think it is due to overwork, but it is usually nothing more or less than an auto-toxicosis or self-poisoning, due in part to the diet which, with most of us, leans definitely towards the acid side, plus the accumulation of the notoriously acid fatigue products. These are the result of mental effort just as frequently as the result of physical labor.

It is, therefore, small wonder that men—and women—working hard all day in the office should find themselves by mid-afternoon suffering from a distinct let-down feeling. This let-down is not merely a sense of feeling tired, but also an inability to concentrate on the work at hand, and an irritability that is desperately hard on the office morals. While usually due to the acids mentioned, an almost identical group of symptoms may be caused by a deficiency of vitamin C. To obtain relief it is customary, when possible, to go out and take a drink or two of some of the preparations, containing a mild stimulant and while these may act, in themselves, be harmful, they simply relieve the tired feeling without removing the cause.

If instead, the tired business man would drink a glass or two of orange or grapefruit juice, or eat two or three tangerines, they would get not only the same immediate relief, but would get it by neutralizing the acids causing the fatigue, or if it should be caused by a vitamin C deficiency, by supplying the lacking vitamin.

One of the best investments a business man could make would be to see that each and every one of his office force was supplied each day with at least one large glass of orange or grapefruit juice as well as a tangerine or two.

This latter fruit is one of the few that can be eaten without wear and tear on "tools, towels or temper." It is just as valuable as the orange or grapefruit both in the prevention or cure of acidosis and as a source of vitamin C.

This, naturally, makes it equally valuable as a most delicious remedy for that bane of the office executive—chronic fatigue.

Modern Food Exhibits Circle Heinz Dome At N. Y. World's Fair

Growing tomato plants in chemically-treated water and in pure white sand, is one of the interesting exhibits to be seen in the Heinz Dome at the New York World's Fair. These plants, cultivated without the use of soil, grow more than seven feet high and produce four crops a year.

THE food industry of "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" is illustrated in an interesting series of exhibits circling the interior of the gigantic Heinz Dome at the New York World's Fair.

Modern methods which bring old-fashioned flavors to your table are depicted in the series of exhibits including a laboratory showing the growing of experimental tomato plants on vines ten feet high in chemically-treated water and in pure white sand. This experimental garden, with actual tomatoes growing in it, has been under cultivation for some time and may be viewed through glass.

This is not a commercial method of growing tomatoes, nor is it practical, but it affords an opportunity for study which may lead to improvement of the fruit. There are only two such gardens in the United States and visitors at the Fair have an opportunity to see the one in the Heinz Dome.

By scientific methods, vitamins and calories. CHAR HING give show combinations of nutrient form suitable diets. The maximum vitamin will be brought in the range of the naked eye, because vitamins are of great value, costing as high as $3,000 a pound. An added attraction is the display, stations where attractively uniformed home economists serve many kinds of Heinz style soups, piping hot, and baked beans, spaghetti, meat-pleases, sandwich specialties, chilled tomato juice.

ARGES LAW AGAINST ALIEN AGITATORS

Arthur Fuller Blasts "Isms" in Memorial Day Address Here

Urging that adequate laws be passed to curb alien agitators, Arthur Fuller, Legionnaire, of Waukegan, blasted every kind of "ism" except true Americanism in his Memorial day address here Tuesday afternoon before a crowd of 700 assembled at the village park for the services.

Fuller is a member of the Homer Dahlinger Post of Waukegan, and is Americanism Officer of the Tenth district.

"Alien doctrines have no place on American soil," Fuller told his hearers. "It is my conviction that laws should be enacted to banish from our shores all those who attempt to undermine the American system. Many of that element do not appreciate America, and know not the price that was paid for liberty. They should be taught to respect the flag and to respect our country, or be deported."

Bugle Corps in First Parade
Prominent in the parade which proceeded from the High school to the park was the newly organized drum and bugle corps, headed by Gerald Mallman, captain of the drummers, and Arthur Mapletorpe, Jr., bugle captain, and Misses Carol Waters and Jeanette Whited, drum majors.

Preceding the group was the color squad of the local American Legion post, and following in order were the firing squad, captained by A. Mapletorpe, daughters of the G. A. R., Spanish-American war veterans, John Pacini, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, Fire Department, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and school children.

Guests Introduced
At the park the invocation was offered by the Rev. S. E. Pollock, and after singing of America led by the high school band, Otto S. Klass, master of ceremonies, called upon Dr. L. J. Zimmerman who introduced several special guests on the platform, including Harold Atwood, captain of the local Sons of Legion squadron, Mayor G. W. Bartlett, Mrs. Mary Mann, gold star mother; John Pacini, Spanish-American veteran, Mrs. O. S. Klass, (continued on page 4) their voting opportunity Monday.

Election on Monday
It is an off-year election in the full sense and also a Monday and not a Tuesday election, as is customary. The district made up of Lake, McHenry, Boone and Winnebago counties, has two of its sitting judges—Judge Dady and Judge Pierce—candidates for re-election. The third bench nominee of the Republicans is Gill, named to replace Judge Arthur E. Fisher, who is retiring.

The judicial election is held every six years and the circuit judge exercises great power over the lives and property rights of every individual. Their election is an event of first importance in which every voter is being urged to participate by the Republican party.

The Observer

Seen on a downtown street in Waukegan Monday, a lady in a fur coat, remarking to a companion, "I suppose I look pretty silly, but I certainly feel comfortable."—And she did.

Several of our advertisers have mentioned to us lately that numerous customers alluded to advertisements appearing in the Antioch News as the reason for their purchases. For this extra and exceedingly thoughtful courtesy on the part of our readers, we would like to express our deeply appreciative thanks.

Comes now the season when disciples of Izaak Walton recount once again the tales that have but one ending and one beginning, "This one was So-o-o-o long."

MONA MARSHALL DIES AT WADSWORTH

Proprietor of Valley Forge Riding Stable, Ill Short Time, Passes

The many friends of Miss Mona Marshall, Wadsworth, were shocked by word of her sudden death Saturday, at her home at the Mill Creek Hunt club, following an illness of but a few hours.

Miss Marshall, who was 33 years of age, had an interesting history. She is said to have been born in Verdun, France, and at the age of six was an accomplished toe dancer and a member of the world-famous group of "Children Toe Dancers," which had a long showing at the Folies Bergere in Paris. She came to America as a toe dancer and appeared in some of the largest American theatres. In 1928 her dancing career was stopped by a severe accident which injured her spine.

Since that time she made her home with her friends, Mrs. Martha Wernecke and son, William B. Wernecke, at their Chicago residence and their farm at Millburn, Ill. Recently Miss Marshall established the Valley Forge Stables Riding school at Millburn. Her fondness for horses and dogs was well known and last month, while visiting Miss Marshall at her farm, Col. Benjamin B. Blackey, former U. S. Army surgeon-general, paid her the tribute of stating that "No man horse trainer, breeder or rider is her equal."

Funeral services for Miss Marshall were held in St. Gertrude's Catholic church, Chicago, with interment in Rosehill Cemetery Burial vaults.

Surviving are her step-mother, Mrs. Maria Hohmann, Waukegan, Germany; a sister, Anna Marie Hohmann, Prachitz, Germany; a brother, also in Germany, and her adopted family, Martha C. and William B. Wernecke.

Prepare Wrestling Card for Opening of Grayslake Arena

Over anxious Lake county wrestling enthusiasts, who "just can't wait" for the summer wrestling season to open at the end of June, will have an opportunity to take in a preview performance in the new Grayslake Outdoor Arena on Monday night, May 29, (Decoration Day Eve) when an all-star card featuring many of the old favorites and several newcomers is presented by Les White and Fred Kohler, local sport impresarios.

Although the complete card has not been closed as yet, reports indicate that such outstanding heavyweight contenders as Matty Matsura, sensational Japanese champion, Jim McMillen, Antioch's own wrestling hero, The Great Balbo, wrestling's mystery man, and rowdy Rudy Kay, Chicago's gas-house kid, will probably be among those in the starting line-up.

Joe Sanders and His Orchestra at Kenosha Sun.

The screen program, "Lucky Night," co-starring Robert Taylor and Myrna Loy, together with an exciting drama, "Street of Missing Men" with Chas. Bickford opens an engagement Friday, May 19, at the Kenosha Theatre, but which will be interrupted Sunday with the one day only presentation of Joe Sanders and his Nighthawks, a famous organization of musicians that have just returned from many years and newspapered in the biggest theatres and results of clubs in the country.

All he'll do his one day stay: First time at 8:15, then at 4:15, 6:45, and the last and tell that 9:15 o'clock, C. S. T.

West was instrumental in the auction bridge as the country's third most popular card game, it was shown by a survey of clubs and social organizations recently completed.

In the nation-wide tabulation, auction gave way only to contract bridge, which is currently Number One card game, and to perennially favored poker.

Two old favorites, pinochle and rummy, battled it out for fourth honors with rummy coming out on top in the ratings. Games such as hearts, 500, whist and solitaire all have their staunch supporters, it was shown, but trailed the leaders by a considerable margin.

There are 42 different card games keeping America entertained at present, according to the poll. Some are favored in certain sections—such as schafkopf (sheephead) in Wisconsin. Others are practically unheard of outside limited areas. Examples of these are guernsey bull and hoof and mouth, which obviously came from the cattle country, and card games called fiery cross, bonanza, datta and squeeze which can be traced to no particular localities.

A 3-Story Flat Houses

Beavers, Muskrats, Mink BUTTE, MONT.—Beavers, sometimes employed by the CCC in dam building and in water conservation, have a new fort now, according to Charles A. Joy, supervisor of Deer Lodge National Forest.

These industrious animals apparently have gone in for apartment life and, in so doing, have demonstrated how to get along with the neighbors.

Joy related a tale of a three-story beaver apartment house that he had found, occupied in the basement by the beaver builders, the second floor housed a family of muskrats, and the pent house was let to a young mink couple, and several little minks.

Apparently the strange family is on the best of terms.

Three Scientists Study

Mysterious Cow Disease

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Three scientists in the University of Minnesota's dairy department are hunting for a minute organism—a germ believed the cause of a disease that annually kills thousands of dairy cows throughout the country.

The scientists specifically are studying a live stock ailment called mastitis, or as known to farmers, "garget." The disease attacks the udders of cows and infected animals must be killed.

The research workers, headed by Dr. W. E. Peterson, believe that mastitis develops from a small organism—but what organism still is a mystery to them.

TRUTH about AL

WHAT IS ADVERTISING

IN THE early days of advertising there were men who posed in the role of genius. They shrouded advertising with mystery. To portray their part they let their hair grow, wore flowing bow ties, affected a far-away look and muttered mysterious formulae.

Some persons still believe that the ability to advertise a business successfully is like the ability to write poetry—an inborn gift.

It isn't at all. The closer advertising comes to answering some of the needs in the lives of common, ordinary people the more nearly it comes to success.

The only genius needed in advertising is the everyday genius of telling the truth in a simple and understandable way.

A few months ago some of the leaders in the advertising profession were boasting about the results of their work.

One of the advertising publications published what they said about themselves.

Writers of some of the largest corporations in the country took part in the discussion. But a little druggist in Florida, spend-

All Metals in Rocks

Almost all metals are found imbedded in rocks, and metal and rock cannot be separated by any single simple process. Many processes are used which gradually reduce the rock and increase the metal content of the ore as it is worked. This is called enrichment.

Solitaire Allied to Dodo

The solitaire was allied to the dodo and became extinct about 1781. Like the dodo it was incapable of flight.
